

DSF seeks College Apprentices

DSF offers apprenticeships for college students who wish to start their careers before graduation. Apprentices work with the Festival's professional directors, actors, designers, and staff to gain hands-on experience both on and off the stage.

Overview

Performance apprentices appear in small roles in the mainstage production, understudy larger roles, and are members of "The Festival Fools," the apprentice acting company.

Production apprentices work with designers to help create costumes, props, sets, and lighting elements of the production.

Management apprentices work with the Front-of-House team to organize marketing campaigns, coordinate volunteers, sell tickets and merchandise, and provide an enjoyable audience atmosphere. The Apprentice stage manager will work under the direction of the professional stage manager throughout the rehearsal and performance process.

All apprentices will be offered a series of Master Classes with topics ranging from administration, unions, technical instruction, voice & movement technique, and how to get a job. All apprentices work side-by-side with the professional DSF technical staff to perform set-up and strike duties each day of tech and performances.
